

Feedback by Sanduni Thathsarani

During the project I noticed that you communicate with all members well and in the final presentation you had done a great job as a main presenter. You managed the audience well and it helped to complete our project successfully. I hope you to continue these qualities and grow yourself too. It would be helpful to your teams and projects in the future.

From: Anton Reunovs

To: Cristiano António Feio

Behaviour:

Cristiano, you were a great team player throughout the project. You consistently worked to overcome challenges and contributed to ensuring the tasks were completed successfully.

Emotion:

Your resilience and ability to handle difficulties were noticeable, and they made a positive impact on the team.

Consequence:

However, your overall level of involvement in the project wasn't as strong as it could have been. With more active engagement and interest, your contributions could have been even more impactful.

Desirable Method:

You've shown great potential and teamwork – next time, staying fully invested in the project could make an even bigger difference. Keep building on your strengths and remain curious and engaged in the work!
